Some cal 25 and 30 are known to exist but are pretty rare. Has an internal revolving firing pin. (Like the sharps pepperboxes) Nickel finish was standard and blued examples are hardly ever seen. Sheridan Knock-A-Bout (Knocabout)	Pistol Top-break	.22 Short RF, .22 Long (5,6x15,1, 22 LR Z, Lang, Zimmer), .22 LR Sheridan's pistol used sheet metal stampings for a machined steel barrel that included the chamber. The weapon had no magazine, the barrel simply unlatched and tipped up, much like that of the Beretta Tomcat/Bobcat model 22's, to load a single round. Once loaded, the user cocked the single action hammer, squeezed the 2# trigger, and fired.
